What is the Patent Bar Exam? The Patent Bar Exam is a two-part, six-hour examination testing your knowledge of the rules and procedures of practice at the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Developed and overseen by the Association of American Medical Colleges, it is given approximately 14 times per year at Prometric Testing Centers, which are located in cities all across America. The MCAT has been in use for over 75 years, and every year over 70,000 people take the exam, even though there are only about 20,000 openings for new medical students each year in America. SCORING AND RESULTS: All examinees will be provided with score report upon their exam completion at the testing center. Score report will be given only once right after the exam and lose or misuse is the sole responsibility of the candidate. Welcome! This space is for folks preparing for the ASCP - MLS/MT/CLS exams. Thank you to the foreign visitors to my page (108 international locations and counting). I took the ASCP exam but the ASCPi is the international equivalent of the same exam. The competencies tested are the same. If you have any questions, comments or...
