The 1940s were all about rationing, protein stretching, substitutions, rediscovering "grandma's foods", and making do with less. Home cooks made sugarless cookies, eggless cakes, and meatless meals. Cookbooks, magazines, government pamphlets, and food company brochures were full of creative ideas for stretching food supplies. Good Foods For MTHFR: What To Eat. So far I've talked a little about what foods and substances you should avoid if you have MTHFR gene mutations and what I'm doing to improve my health. Today I want to talk a little about what foods you should be incorporating into your diet. Unfortunately, the nutrient-depleted foods of today often prevent us from getting everything we need from our meals. Planked Arctic Char. With Charred Oranges and Orange Sauce.
